St. Louis, June 14.—Everything was in readiness at noon today for the renomination of Woodrow Wilson and Thomas Marshall by the Democratic national convention called to order in the coliseum by Chairman McCombs, but it was expected that the convention would take three days to reach that business. The reason was that St. Louis offered the Democrats $100,000 if they could make it a three day engagement. The national committee wants that $100,000 and so the two thousand Democratic delegates and ten thousand or more of their friends have settled down to the business of looking handsome and important.

For enthusiasm and novelty of staging the Democratic show today made last week's twin three ring circus at Chicago look like a touring carnival company at the end of the season. Today's program was largely routine. After McCombs had sung his "Swan song" and introduced Keynote Martin H. Glynn, the convention went into the work of suggesting details. When there were completed adjournment until Thursday was to be taken.

From the Jefferson hotel to the coliseum today the Democrats marched through a long lane of gold and white and thousands of waving American flags. Suffragettes formed a line and kept silence. It was most remarkable. The spectacle of five thousand women squatting on little camp stools and keeping quiet. They Hughes of New Jersey. "There was no real need for a convention this year to pick a candidate as this whole thing will be a hot air plant."

About this time the crowd began making a mistake in not bringing them George M. Cohen then signalled the along. Flags were passed out by hand to play "Columbia the Gem of the South" in recognition of flag day and they carried not only the Demo-

Woman Who Hopes to Be The "First Lady of The Land," and Daughter

MISS HELEN HUGHES

This photograph of Mrs. Charles E. Hughes, wife of the Republican candidate for the presidency, the woman who will be the "first lady of the land" if the justices of the United States Supreme court is elected, was taken in her library at her home in Washington. Mr. Hughes is known in Washington as a woman of domestic, rather than society tastes. Despite the fact that her husband's place made Helen Hughes, the eldest daughter, has been for some time in a camp of the Young Women's Christian association in Pennsylvania.

feet and yelled approval. There was cheering when audience spied William Jennings Bryan coming in. He has his press ticket in one hand and a big Japanese fan in the other and was looking uncertainly about for his hat when the crowd glimpsed him. He smiled, shook hands with his new paper friends and then, at down, placing a gorgeous yellow black and white cotton tyer on the speaker's stand. This joke failed to cause any applause. It fell flat as a miter of fact and was removed shortly afterwards.

Platform Recommendations

Government ownership of railroads, telegraph and telephone lines and gold deposits were advocated today for the Democratic platform in a report to the resolutions committee by Frank T. Walsh, chairman of the committee on industrial relations. Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, submitted a resolution of organized labor for telephone and telegraph lines and a far reaching program of economic and industrial reforms.

The Democratic platform will contain a strong bid to the so-called fatherly government or there will be a fight. This was made clear today as the young and progressive members of the party began getting together. A group led by Director of the Mint Woodley, Assistant Attorney General Thompson and Richard T. Jones of Wisconsin have tried things going. With the arrival of Secretary of War Baker the proposition to throw the door wide open to Progressive was considered.

Progressive Meets

William Allen White, one of the Progressive leaders, introduced today with Secretary of Navy Daniels. He declared, however, that it was not with any thought of finding a way for Progressives to get into the White House. "I am not a White House man," he said. "I am a man who is much more interested in the people than in the White House. I am a man who is interested in the people's rights and the people's welfare."

Delegate George W. Brown of Rhode Island gave an interesting address on the subject of the "First Lady of the Land." He said that he was sure that the first lady of the land would be a woman of domestic, rather than society tastes. WILSON MARCHES IN BIG PARADE TODAY

Joins in Demonstration For Preparedness

By P. YODER
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, June 14.—For the first time in history a President of the United States today marched on foot in a parade. President Wilson today joined in a parade in the city of Washington. The parade was a demonstration for preparedness and a tribute to the flag today being the anniversary of the adoption by Congress of the flag and the national emblem.

The President's attention was called by a chorus of pretty little girls who yelled at him. He glanced at the girls and he smiled and nodded.

HOSPITAL BENEFIT

The Junior Auxiliary of the Clearfield Hospital has adopted a novel plan to raise much needed funds for that worthy institution. They have decided to publish and sell cook books, compiled from the best home tried recipes furnished by the ladies of Clearfield county. Everybody sufficiently interested in the cause is asked to send her best home tried recipe to Mr. G. W. Shillingford, Clearfield, Pa. It is also necessary to have the cooperation of the business interest and to attain that end the committee has arranged with the Misses Carrie and Myrtle Miller to call on the merchants and manufacturers to explain the plan in full. They will have the enclosed credentials of the society and it is hoped they will receive the assistance necessary to make the project a most glowing success.

He has been troubled with a cough and may have strained a muscle. That is all. The Colonel was at the Derby home when Mr. Derby made this statement. He was due to leave within a short time for his office.

ST. FRANCIS H. S. ALUMNI TO HOLD BANQUET & DANCE

Many Members of Association From Eastern Cities Will Attend Big Affair

Second Annual Banquet Promises to Be One of Largest Social Functions of Summer—Many Invitations Issued.

Preparations have been completed for the second annual banquet and dance of the St. Francis High School Alumni Association to be held at The Dimeling, Thursday, June 15th, and it promises to be one of the largest social affairs of the summer.

Invitations have been sent out to all the Alumni, and reports point to a record breaking attendance at both the banquet and dance.

A particularly attractive menu for the banquet has been prepared by the resourceful manager of the Dimeling, and it will be a long remembered event to those who are privileged to attend.

A large number of guests have been invited to the private dance to be held after the banquet. The dance is strictly informal, and an unusually good program has been made up from a selected list of favorite dances. The engagement of the Wallace six-piece orchestra gives every assurance of fine music.

This is only the second year of the Association's history, but rapid strides have been towards cementing it into a permanent organization. Determined efforts have been made to reach all members and the secretary has received word from Alumni all over the East, saying they would be present.

STILL CHANCE TO WIN AUTOMOBILE IN BIG CONTEST

Nomination Period in Progress Contest Still Open—Chance For More Ambitious Candidates

Vote Standing of Candidates Being Carefully Followed—Both New and Old Subscribers Are Encouraged With Subscriptions.

The present week is one of the most important periods of the Progress big automobile contest and from the list of candidates who have already started in the vote getting, and those who enter the subscription race during the present week, the winners of the many fine and valuable prizes will, in all probability, be taken. This is the time when the most effective work can be done in the subscription getting and when the votes on the subscriptions and the bonus clubs will count the most.

The first voting period will close on Saturday, July 8th—just three weeks from next Saturday night and after that time, as fully explained in the printed details of the contest the second period schedule goes into effect. This means that fewer votes will be issued on subscriptions during the last two weeks of the contest than may now be had on the open subscriptions.

Those who expect to compete in the merry race and who wish to be at or near the top in the final reckoning should aim to get in as many votes during the present voting period of the contest as they possibly can. As will be seen there are more than three weeks remaining for the first vote harvest, and each and every day of that time is so valuable to those who aspire for the high awards that not a day should be allowed to pass without supplying its quota of votes.

Nominations Still Good

We wish to announce once that the nomination period contest is still open and that tries will yet be received from the communities covered by the contest. Those who have considered the matter, but have as yet been undecided, should now make a decision and launch their campaign. By doing this any active person either of the districts can, within a few days, be heading the list.

Every contestant should be to it (Continued on Page Three)

Josephus Daniels' idea of preparedness is a glass of grape juice on an empty stomach.

Saint Louis is paying $100,000 a day for Democratic oratory. Bill Bryan and a circus tent would be cheaper.

A HURTFUL LAW?

Many fishermen in this section believe that the law prohibiting the taking of brook trout under six inches in length to be a poor means at best of conserving the stock of trout. They point out that most of the smaller fish die after they are returned to the water, and, for all the good that the law does, might just as well be put into the creel with the larger fish.

NAMING MR. WILSON.

Seventy-two hours of perfunctory oratory will precede the nomination by acclamation next Friday of Woodrow Wilson as the nominee of the Democratic party for the Presidency. It begins today when Senator Ollie James, of Kentucky, permanent chairman of the convention at Saint Louis, lifts the lid from the smouldering cauldron of eloquence with an altitudinous effort extolling the virtues of the Democracy and Woodrow Wilson. He will be followed by other, and still other, word architects, each contributing a touch to the pedestal which the party will hoist Woodrow Wilson, standard bearer. It will be the same old pedestal which thrice supported the ponderous bulk of William Jennings Bryan, and the halo which will float above the classical brow of Woodrow will be the same old nimbus which served William through three fruitless campaigns.

No whisper of discontent will mar the perfect program. Love will be the predominant theme, and much of it will be whispered in darkness to would-be Progressive matchmakers whom the Democrats fondly hope will arrange a happy union between the two parties.

To meet the demand of the hour, the Star Spangled Banner will be waved and wept over. Patriots in whose veins flows the undiluted fires of recently acquired Americanism will indulge in words faultlessly chosen to pronounce their abiding faith in the glory of Old Glory, unmindful of the fresh stains upon the flag which have been put there by strangers and allowed to stay by the man and the party in whose name their eloquence is voiced. The achievements of a Democratic congress will be dwelt upon in reverent terms, and the Kaiser will be roundly damned for intruding his war upon a season which God Almighty had chosen to bless with the wondrous crops which gave first impetus to the prosperity the war has continued. Credit for both will be by the convention if Democratic paternity of affluence is established.

helpless Dove of Peace will perch over the rostrum on a defenseless olive branch, and it will be pointed out that Woodrow saved the bird's tail feathers, to the everlasting glory of the Democratic party. And no word will be said of the enduring shame, humiliation and disgrace which the plumage cost in the saving.

In short, it will be a convention of orators, dedicated to the purpose of whitewashing four years of maladministration of the nation's affairs. The party's new coat of respectability and fitness will be a patchwork of verbal warp and verbal wool, and it will cover the skeleton of a political religion which has embraced Americanism, preparedness, and all the other greater things of present day American life, only under the strict compulsion of universal demand.

convention. By this time it was apparent the steamship atmosphere of the hall was rapidly taking the place of the audience and only a light round of applause marked the introduction of Glynn, of New York, as temporary chairman. Some of them on the platform waved their flag vigorously while the band aided by tooting until Chairman McCormack gavel stopped them.

Disabled British Soldiers Taught Useful Trade

In order that disabled soldiers may have some good livelihood after the war, and may not even at present be a burden on the community, the British have instituted vocational schools for such soldiers. The illustration taken from a recent issue of the Leicester Daily Post shows how some of the convalescent men are being taught automobile engineering. The "Nobby" Tread Tire which is so much in evidence in the picture shows the immense popularity in England as well as in the United States of these famous anti-skid casings.

MENTIONED FOR SECOND PLACE

St. Louis, Mo., June 13.—Should the Democratic national convention which assembles here tomorrow decide to name a running mate for President Wilson other than Thomas R. Marshall, of Indiana, it will find no dearth of available men from which to choose the candidate. With the near approach of the convention, the contest for second place on the ticket has developed rather a lively affair. Numerous banners of candidates have pitched their camps on the battleground and are laying the foundations of campaign. Among those whose names are most frequently heard in connection with the honor are Governor Morehead, of Nebraska, Governor Major, of Missouri, Senator Owen, of Oklahoma, Senator Chamberlain, of Oregon and Roger C. Sullivan, of Illinois.

TIRES ON A SODA FOUNTAIN

The first druggist to take advantage of the enormous popularity of automobiles is in Little Rock, Arkansas. This gentleman has taken a remarkable initiative in equipping his soda fountain to represent the most popular light car now on the market. Incidentally, he has chosen to equip the most popular high class anti-skid tire now made, the United States "Nobby" Tread.

Pity the Man Who Doesn't Advertise!

By EREN.

"I have an established business. I don't require advertising."

That is the answer of some self satisfied man to a request for advertising. Meanwhile his progressive neighbor is using printer's ink lavishly.

The result is obvious. It's only a question of time. The self satisfied business man soon finds his trade disappearing. His progressive neighbor goes ahead with leaps and bounds. Every business, no matter how firmly established, needs advertising. If it isn't advertised a soon will be in a rut. Don't get in a rut. Advertise.

ENGLAND HONORS SIX HEROES OF THE AIR

BY WILBUR S. FORREST (United Press Staff Correspondent)

London, June 13.—Six new names were written today on England's newest honor list—the aerial gallantry roll.

As the result, six medals of the Distinguished Service Order of the Military Corps for a type of gallantry unknown before the present war.

One of the birdmen newly honored is Lieutenant Malcolm Henderson, Seaforth Highlanders, who lost a leg by shell fire at an altitude of 7,000 feet. Despite his injury he succeeded in maneuvering his machine from above the enemy's lines to a place of safety behind the British lines, thus saving his aeroplane, his life and the life of his observer.

Lieutenant Frank Hudson, 18, was severely wounded in the head while on reconnaissance duty flying over the German lines. He clung to consciousness until he had piloted his aeroplane to a place of safety and then fainted. On previous occasions he had brought down two enemy machines.

"For conspicuous gallantry and skill" in the officially worded announcement of honor for Captain J. E. Tennant, Scots Guards, who effected a night bombing of an enemy aviation shed. He shot off his engine, descended to within thirty feet of the objective and dropped his bombs. Although the explosion damaged his machine, he restarted the engine and escaped only to request another machine on his return with which to repeat the operation.

Lieutenants Thomas Howe and Edward Leggett, in the same machine, merited decorations for downing two enemy machines during a single flight. After dispatching the first they winged to a higher altitude and engaged the second. Both enemies were downed by machine gun fire.

A number of conspicuous feats are attached to the record of Lieutenant Henry Yates, the last named on the official honor roll. His outstanding accomplishment was the destruction of an enemy waterworks under terrific fire.

With anti-aircraft guns roaring and a company of infantry firing on him he brought his machine down to within six hundred feet and launched his bombs. It dropped in the center of the waterworks destroying it. He then intrepidly attacked the infantry with his machine gun and routed it.

OSCEOLA MILES

Prof. J. E. Kuchel and W. T. Egan are Philadelphia visitors on Monday.

Hon. C. H. Rowland, of Philadelphia, transacted business in town Monday. The Weston Colliery which has not worked since May 25th when the power plant was blown up with dynamite will resume operations on Wednesday. In addition to the large loss to the mining company over 100 men have been idle for the past two weeks as a result of lack of coal of some kind. A large reward has been offered for the apprehension of the guilty parties.

The dwelling house and contents of John Witolski, at Mapleton, were entirely destroyed by fire last evening between nine and ten o'clock. The family had retired and when awakened by the fire, had barely time to escape from the burning building. Only a few chairs and a rug were saved from the fire. In addition to the furniture lost, Mr. Witolski and his son-in-law, William Kepper, who lived with him lost a considerable sum of money.

Miss Carrie Brown is attending commencement exercises at Dickinson Seminary at Williamsport this week.

J. W. Mitchell, representing the Progress, was a business visitor in town on Monday.

COMB SAGE TEA INTO GRAY HAIR

Darkens Beautifully and Restores
Its Natural Color and Lustre
At Once

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea, with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and lustrous. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use preparation improved by the addition of other ingredients, costing about 50 cents a large bottle, at drug stores, known as "Weyth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." This, according to a lot of mass, while gray, faded hair is not so useful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Weyth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time, by means of all gray hairs have disappeared. After another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully glossy, soft and luxuriant and you appear years younger. Weyth's Sage and Sulphur compound is a delightful toilet requisite. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

ANOTHER HOPEWELL IN WISCONSIN

Fair Chire, Wis., June 12.—Barksdale, a hamlet in the woods of northern Wisconsin a place of six or eight houses and a general store, will soon be as famous as Virginia's new city of Hopewell. Barksdale is coming into big money. For a score of years the village has struggled close to the railroad tracks, dirty, unkempt, and as poor as the proverbial church mouse.

But a wonderfully good fairy whose real name is the Wisconsin legislature, smiled on poor old Barksdale. And when January comes around in 1917 there will be $118,000 of real money dumped into the hamlet for its benefit.

The population of Barksdale township in 1910 was 393. The inhabitants were farmers, lumberjacks, hunters and trappers. Today the population is about 500. The town cast 98 votes at a recent election.

Behind the munificent gift of the Wisconsin legislature is the story of Barksdale's rise to fame through the manufacture of munitions. When the du Pont powder company decided to build a big powder plant in upper Wisconsin, it located in the northeast corner of Barksdale township. Here it erected a group of buildings where many persons are now employed, and from which a constant flow of high explosives is going forward to feed the big guns in Europe.

Not a soul stays at the powder plant at night, unless it be a guard or two, and all the ammunition workers live in the town of Washburn, just north of the township line. But the plant is in Barksdale, and the Wisconsin income tax provides that corporations must pay a percentage of net earnings to the township wherein the industry is located.

The township maintained itself and kept up its roads the best it could on an annual income amounting to $8,000. Hereafter it has raised enough to spend $22.09 per capita on its schools and roads and other needed things, including salaries of township officials. After January, without any taxes at all, it will have $162.25 per capita to spend.

Of course there will be no taxes. And no township official need fear a salary cut. And why should not every farmer in Barksdale not have a good road running past his place, and a new school house close by? A bank official figured up the big plan a few weeks ago and estimated that the income from the powder company will bring Barksdale $118,000, most of which will be all its own.

THE CLIFF DWELLERS OF AMERICA

The best of the Barton Holmes Travel Pictures, showing scenes in the United States, will be shown at the Opera House, tomorrow, Wednesday evening. It is entitled "The Cliff Dwellers of America." This picture shows scenes of city life more or less familiar to most of us and contrasts the present day Cliff Dweller with the original ones. Every Wednesday night from now on the Travel Pictures will deal with strictly American subjects. The pictures that are to follow are "Grand Canyon of Arizona," "A Day With Our West Point Cadets," "Our Midwives at Annapolis" and others. These pictures are interesting and instructive, and you should take advantage of the opportunity to see them.

AMERICAN FLAG IS 139 YEARS OLD

Washington, D. C., June 14.—One hundred and thirty-nine years ago—on June 14, 1777—Congress created: "That the flag of the 13 United States be 13 stripes, alternate red and white; that the Union be 13 stars, white in a blue field, representing a new constellation."

Today the entire country, from the Atlantic to the Pacific oceans, and from the Great Lakes to the Gulf, will respond with the acclamations of a free people in celebration of the birthday of the emblem of their nationality. In all the large cities and in the town halls and schoolhouses of small villages and hamlets alike, the days when the hand-made symbol of a body of united colonists fighting for self-respect and liberty will be recalled and the story of the struggle for the maintenance of an asserted independence will be told in oration, recitation and music.

Wherever the loyal and patriotic societies have headquarters and wherever the youth of the nation can be gathered to be given inspiration from the chronicle of America's struggle, accomplishment and progress, the bells will today ring out and the call of patriotism will be answered.

In the nation's capital Old Glory has waved triumphantly from public buildings, from all important business houses and even the quietest streets, loyal citizens, with one accord displayed the emblem of union, freedom and enlightenment. Pennsylvania avenue, always the main artery of the capital, was today especially the current where the stream of national pride showed itself. Hundreds of flags were floating. Large flags and small flags, and upon the coats of the men, little button-hole flags. In the public schools, from kindergarten to graduating students of the high schools, every heart throbbled with jubilation, and teachers pupils and parents united in exercises.

The big spectacular event of the day was the Flag Day parade in the interest of the preparedness movement. For the first time within the memory of the oldest inhabitant of Washington a President of the United States was seen marching on foot in a public procession. President Wilson, accompanied by nearly all the members of the cabinet and the heads of the various departments of the government, walked at the head of the parade from the Peace Monument to the Post Office Department building, where he dropped out of line to review the procession. After the parade the President was escorted to the Washington Monument lot, where he delivered the Flag Day address to one of the largest crowds ever seen in the capital.

St. Louis, Mo., June 14.—Amid all the hubbub and confusion accompanying today's opening of the Democratic national convention one of the outstanding features that attracted most attention from the delegates and visitors was the "Walkless Parade" of the woman suffragists. For many weeks the suffrage organizations have been recruiting members to take part in this exceedingly unique demonstration. Nine o'clock this morning found rows upon rows of white clad women, decked with yellow streamers and sashes, and carrying picturesque yellow parasols, forming a complete line around the Jefferson hotel and the Coliseum, the two points for the delegates, so that every man as he came and went all day long was surrounded and confronted by the visible indication that women all over the United States want the vote, and moreover, want a suffrage plank in the Democratic platform.

ENCAMPMENT OF OREGON VETERANS

Eugene, Ore., June 11.—Grand Army and Spanish war veterans, together with members of numerous affiliated organizations, are here from every part of Oregon to attend their annual joint State encampment, which began its sessions today. The entire city was in patriotic attire in honor of the visitors and in celebration of Flag Day. The gathering will continue until Saturday. Forest Grove is making a spirited fight for the next encampment.

NEW RUSSIAN PORT TO HELP UNITED STATES

New York, June 14.—According to a cable message by the American Russian Chamber of Commerce in this city the new Russian port of Nikolaevsk, at the mouth of the Amur River, in Siberia is to be opened for navigation today. The opening of the new port will enable American exporters to land goods in Russia without interference or delay from Government shipments, for the first time since the beginning of the European war. Goods will be transported on the Amur River to Stretyinsk, where connection will be made with a railroad joining the trans-Siberian line.

that his or her published vote standing is not allowed to fall too far below the average of the daily leaders. Of course the leadership in each district will be changing almost daily and it must be remembered that the leadership in either district at this time gives no promise that the first position will be held by the same candidates at the end, but good standing in the published vote is essential to any candidate for it proves to their friends that no quarter is being given and that they are up and doing.

Old Subscribers Enthusiastic

A very pleasant feature about the present enterprise of the Progress is the fact that the votes are issues on the old and arrears subscriptions as well as on the new subscriptions. This gives all of our present subscribers the opportunity of selecting their favorite candidate and casting their votes accordingly. Every person, no matter where they live, or whether they are now receiving the Progress or not, who makes a subscription payment of $1.50 or more to the Progress, during the time of the contest, is entitled to votes in accordance to the amount paid. Persons who have been making weekly payments to carrier boys may make payments of $1.50 or more to the contestants, who will issue proper receipt for same, and the paper will be continued from the expiration of the last payment made in the carrier.

Persons who live out of town or those receiving the paper by mail may either hand their subscription payments to the contestant or they may mail them direct to the Progress office, and proper vote credit for the candidate indicated will be given. In all cases where subscriptions are handed in or mailed direct to the office by the subscriber the candidate to whom the votes are to go must be specified at the time.

If you have not yet voted select your candidate from the printed list below. Hand him or her your subscription now. You must help name the winners.

HOLLAND'S WAR BREAD MUST BE CHANGED

The Hague, June 13.—(By United Press)—Holland's war bread, which has been in use for the last few weeks, will have to be changed. The Holland populace says so, the physicians of Holland says so and the government is expected to agree.

Unlike the war bread of all other European countries, the Holland bread was made of flour which contained the husks of the wheat. Even the sturdy Dutch stomach was unable to endure the scrapings and scratches of the wheat husks and shortly the physicians of Dutch cities and towns had a rush of patients whose digestive organs had gone wrong. The doctors quickly traced the trouble to the war bread.

WEDNESDAY EVENING, JUNE 14, 1916.

Josephus Daniels' idea of preparedness is a glass of grape juice on an empty stomach.

Saint Louis is paying $100,000 a day for Democratic oratory. Bill Bryan and a circus tent would be cheaper.

A HURTFUL LAW?

Many fishermen in this section believe that the law prohibiting the taking of brook trout under six inches in length to be a poor means at best of conserving the stock of trout. They point out that most of the smaller fish die after they are returned to the water, and, for all the good that the law does, might just as well be put into the creel with the larger fish.

NAMING MR. WILSON.

Seventy-two hours of perfunctory oratory will precede the nomination by acclamation next Friday of Woodrow Wilson as the nominee of the Democratic party for the Presidency. It begins today when Senator Ollie James, of Kentucky, permanent chairman of the convention at Saint Louis, lifts the lid from the smouldering cauldron of eloquence with an altitudinous effort extolling the virtues of the Democracy and Woodrow Wilson. He will be followed by other, and still other, word architects, each contributing a touch to the pedestal which the party will hoist Woodrow Wilson, standard bearer. It will be the same old pedestal which thrice supported the ponderous bulk of William Jennings Bryan, and the halo which will float above the classical brow of Woodrow will be the same old nimbus which served William through three fruitless campaigns.

No whisper of discontent will mar the perfect program. Love will be the predominant theme, and much of it will be whispered in darkness to would-be Progressive matchmakers whom the Democrats fondly hope will arrange a happy union between the two parties.

To meet the demand of the hour, the Star Spangled Banner will be waved and wept over. Patriots in whose veins flows the undiluted fires of recently acquired Americanism will indulge in words faultlessly chosen to pronounce their abiding faith in the glory of Old Glory, unmindful of the fresh stains upon the flag which have been put there by strangers and allowed to stay by the man and the party in whose name their eloquence is voiced.

The achievements of a Democratic congress will be dwelt upon in reverent terms, and the Kaiser will be roundly damned for intruding his war upon a season which God Almighty had chosen to bless with the wonderous crops which gave first impetus to the prosperity the war has continued. Credit for both will be by the convention if Democratic paternity of affluence is established.

helpless Dove of Peace will perch over the rostrum on a defenseless olive branch, and it will be pointed out that Woodrow saved the bird's tail feathers, to the everlasting glory of the Democratic party. And no word will be said of the enduring shame, humiliation and disgrace which the plumage cost in the saving.

In short, it will be a convention of orators, dedicated to the purpose of whitewashing four years of maladministration of the nation's affairs. The party's new coat of respectability and fitness will be a patchwork of verbal warp and verbal wool, and it will cover the skeleton of a political religion which has embraced Americanism, preparedness, and all the other greater things of present day American life, only under the strict compulsion of universal demand.

convention. By this time it was apparent the steamship atmosphere of the hall was rapidly taking the place of the audience and only a light round of applause marked the introduction of Glynn, of New York, as temporary chairman. Some of them on the platform waved their flag vigorously while the band aided by tooting until Chairman McCormack gavel stopped them.

Disabled British Soldiers Taught Useful Trade

In order that disabled soldiers may have some good livelihood after the war, and may not even at present be a burden on the community, the British have instituted vocational schools for such soldiers. The illustration taken from a recent issue of the Leicester Daily Post shows how some of the convalescent men are being taught automobile engineering. The "Nobby" Tread Tire which is so much in evidence in the picture shows the immense popularity in England as well as in the United States of these famous anti-skid casings.

MENTIONED FOR SECOND PLACE

St. Louis, Mo., June 13.—Should the Democratic national convention which assembles here tomorrow decide to name a running mate for President Wilson other than Thomas R. Marshall, of Indiana, it will find no dearth of available men from which to choose the candidate. With the near approach of the convention, the contest for second place on the ticket has developed rather a lively affair. Numerous banners of candidates have pitched their camps on the battleground and are laying the foundations of campaign. Among those whose names are most frequently heard in connection with the honor are Governor Morehead, of Nebraska, Governor Major, of Missouri, Senator Bryan, of Oklahoma, Senator Chamberlain, of Oregon and Roger C. Sullivan, of Illinois.

TIRES ON A SODA FOUNTAIN

The first druggist to take advantage of the enormous popularity of automobiles is in Little Rock, Arkansas. This gentleman has taken a remarkable initiative in equipping his soda fountain to represent the most popular light car now on the market. Incidentally, he has chosen to equip the most popular high class anti-skid tire now made, the United States "Nobby" Tread.

Pity the Man Who Doesn't Advertise!

By EREN.

"I have an established business. I don't require advertising."

That is the answer of some self satisfied man to a request for advertising. Meanwhile his progressive neighbor is using printer's ink lavishly.

The result is obvious. The self satisfied business man soon finds his trade disappearing. His progressive neighbor goes ahead with leaps and bounds. Every business, no matter how firmly established, needs advertising. If it isn't advertised a soon will be in a rut. Don't get in a rut. Advertise.

ENGLAND HONORS SIX HEROES OF THE AIR

By WILBUR S. FORREST (United Press Staff Correspondent)

London, June 13.—Six new names were written today on England's newest honor list—the aerial gallantry roll.

As the result, six medals of the Distinguished Service Order of the Military Corps for a type of gallantry unknown before the present war.

One of the birdmen newly honored is Lieutenant Malcolm Henderson, Seaforth Highlanders, who lost a leg by shell fire at an altitude of 7,000 feet. Despite his injury he succeeded in maneuvering his machine from above the enemy's lines to a place of safety behind the British lines, thus saving his aeroplane, his life and the life of his observer.

Lieutenant Frank Hudson, 18, was severely wounded in the head while on reconnaissance duty flying over the German lines. He clung to consciousness until he had piloted his aeroplane to a place of safety and then fainted. On previous occasions he had brought down two enemy machines.

"For conspicuous gallantry and skill" in the officially worded announcement of honor for Captain J. E. Tennant, Scots Guards, who effected a night bombing of an enemy aviation shed. He shot off his engine, descended to within thirty feet of the objective and dropped his bombs. Although the explosion damaged his machine, he restarted the engine and escaped only to request another machine on his return with which to repeat the operation.

Lieutenants Thomas Howe and Edward Leggett, in the same machine, merited decorations for downing two enemy machines during a single flight. After dispatching the first they winged to a higher altitude and engaged the second. Both enemies were downed by machine gun fire.

A number of conspicuous feats are attached to the record of Lieutenant Henry Yates, the last named on the official honor roll. His outstanding accomplishment was the destruction of an enemy waterworks under terrific fire.

With anti-aircraft guns roaring and a company of infantry firing on him he brought his machine down to within six hundred feet and launched his bombs. It dropped in the center of the waterworks destroying it. He then intrepidly attacked the infantry with his machine gun and routed it.

OSCEOLA MILES

Prof. J. E. Kuchel and W. T. Egan are Philadelphia visitors on Monday.

Hon. C. H. Rowland, of Philadelphia, transacted business in town Monday. The Weston Colliery which has not worked since May 25th when the power plant was blown up with dynamite will resume operations on Wednesday. In addition to the large loss to the mining company over 100 men have been idle for the past two weeks as a result of lack of power of some kind. A large reward has been offered for the apprehension of the guilty parties.

The dwelling house and contents of John Witoski, at Mapleton, were entirely destroyed by fire last evening between nine and ten o'clock. The family had retired and when awakened by the fire, had barely time to escape from the burning building. Only a few chairs and a rug were saved from the fire. In addition to the furniture lost, Mr. Witoski and his son-in-law, William Keener, who lived with him lost a considerable sum of money.

Miss Carrie Brown is attending commencement exercises at Dickinson Seminary at Williamsport this week.

J. W. Mitchell, representing the Progress, was a business visitor in town on Monday.

Clear, Peachy Skin Awaits Anyone Who Drinks Hot Water

Says an inside bath, before breakfast, fast helps us look and feel clean, sweet, fresh.

Sparkling and vivacious—merry, bright alert—a good, clear skin and a natural, rosy, healthy complexion are assured only by pure blood. It is every man and woman could be induced to adopt the morning inside bath, what a gratifying change would take place. Instead of the thousands of sickly, anaemic-looking men, women and girls, with pasty or muddy complexions; instead of the multitudes of "nervy fags," "rundowns," "brain fags," and pessimists who should see a virile, optimistic throng of rosy-checked people everywhere.

An inside bath is had by drinking each morning before breakfast a glass of hot water with a tea-spoonful of limestone phosphate in it. Wash from the stomach, liver, kidneys and ten yards of bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, cleansing, sweetening and freshening the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach. These subject to sick headache, biliousness, nasty breath, rheumatism, colds and particularly those who have a pallid, sallow complexion and are constipated very often are urged to obtain a quartary pound of limestone phosphate at the drug store which will cost but a trifle, but is sufficient to demonstrate the quick and remarkable change in both health and appearance, waiting those who must remember that inside cleanliness is more important than outside beauty because the skin does not absorb the poisons to contaminate the blood while the pores in the thirty feet of bowels do.

COMB SAGE TEA INTO GRAY HAIR

Darkens Beautifully and Restores
Its Natural Color and Lustre
At Once

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea, with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and lustrous. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use preparation improved by the addition of other ingredients, costing about 50 cents a large bottle, at drug stores, known as "Weyth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." This, according to a lot of mass, while gray, faded hair is not so useful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Weyth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time, by means of all gray hairs have disappeared. After another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully glossy, soft and luxuriant and you appear years younger. Weyth's Sage and Sulphur compound is a delightful toilet requisite. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

ANOTHER HOPEWELL IN WISCONSIN

Four Chire, Wis., June 12.—Barksdale, a hamlet in the woods of northern Wisconsin a place of six or eight houses and a general store, will soon be as famous as Virginia's new city of Hopewell. Barksdale is coming into big money. For a score of years the village has struggled close to the railroad tracks, dirty, unkempt, and as poor as the proverbial church mouse.

But a wonderfully good fairy whose real name is the Wisconsin legislature, smiled on poor old Barksdale. And when January comes around in 1917 there will be $118,000 of real money dumped into the hamlet for its benefit.

The population of Barksdale township in 1910 was 393. The inhabitants were farmers, lumberjacks, hunters and trappers. Today the population is about 500. The town cast 98 votes at a recent election.

Behind the magnificent gift of the Wisconsin legislature is the story of Barksdale's rise to fame through the manufacture of munitions. When the du Pont powder company decided to build a big powder plant in upper Wisconsin, it located in the northeast corner of Barksdale township. Here it erected a group of buildings where many persons are now employed, and from which a constant flow of high explosives is going forward to feed the big guns in Europe.

Not a soul stays at the powder plant at night, unless it be a guard or two, and all the ammunition workers live in the town of Washburn, just north of the township line. But the plant is in Barksdale, and the Wisconsin income tax provides that corporations must pay a percentage of net earnings to the township wherein the industry is located.

The township maintained itself and kept up its roads the best it could on an annual income amounting to $8,000. Hereafter it has raised enough to spend $22.09 per capita on its schools and roads and other needed things, including salaries of township officials. After January, without any taxes at all, it will have $162.25 per capita to spend.

Of course there will be no taxes. And no township official need fear a salary cut. And why should not every farmer in Barksdale not have a good road running past his place, and a new school house close by? A bank official figured up the big plan a few weeks ago and estimated that the income from the powder company will bring Barksdale $118,000, most of which will be all its own.

THE CLIFF DWELLERS OF AMERICA

The best of the Barton Holmes Travel Pictures, showing scenes in the United States will be shown at the Opera House, tomorrow, Wednesday evening. It is entitled "The Cliff Dwellers of America." This picture shows scenes of city life more or less familiar to most of us and contrasts the present day Cliff Dweller with the original ones. Every Wednesday night from now on the Travel Pictures will deal with strictly American subjects. The pictures that are to follow are "Grand Canyon of Arizona," "A Day With Our West Point Cadets," "Our Midwives at Annapolis" and others. These pictures are interesting and instructive, and you should take advantage of the opportunity to see them.

AMERICAN FLAG IS 139 YEARS OLD

Washington, D. C., June 14.—One hundred and thirty-nine years ago—on June 14, 1777—Congress created: "That the flag of the 13 United States be 13 stripes, alternate red and white; that the Union be 13 stars, white in a blue field, representing a new constellation."

Today the entire country, from the Atlantic to the Pacific oceans, and from the Great Lakes to the Gulf, will respond with the acclamations of a free people in celebration of the birthday of the emblem of their nationality. In all the large cities and in the town halls and schoolhouses of small villages and hamlets alike, the days when the hand-made symbol of a body of united colonists fighting for self-respect and liberty will be recalled and the story of the struggle for the maintenance of an asserted independence will be told in oration, recitation and music.

Wherever the loyal and patriotic societies have headquarters and wherever the youth of the nation can be gathered to be given inspiration from the chronicle of America's struggle, accomplishment and progress, the bells will today ring out and the call of patriotism will be answered.

In the nation's capital Old Glory has waved triumphantly from public buildings, from all important business houses and even the quietest streets, streets, loyal citizens, with one accord displayed the emblem of union, freedom and enlightenment. Pennsylvania avenue, always the main artery of the capital, was today especially the current where the stream of national pride showed itself. Hundreds of flags were floating. Large flags and small flags, and upon the coats of the men, little button-hole flags. In the public schools, from kindergarten to graduating students of the high schools, every heart throbbled with jubilation, and teachers pupils and parents united in exercises.

The big spectacular event of the day was the Flag Day parade in the interest of the preparedness movement. For the first time within the memory of the oldest inhabitant of Washington a President of the United States was seen marching on foot in a public procession. President Wilson, accompanied by nearly all the members of the cabinet and the heads of the various departments of the government, walked at the head of the parade from the Peace Monument to the Post Office Department building, where he dropped out of line to review the procession. After the parade the President was escorted to the Washington Monument lot, where he delivered the Flag Day address to one of the largest crowds ever seen in the capital.

St. Louis, Mo., June 14.—Amid all the hubbub and confusion accompanying today's opening of the Democratic national convention one of the outstanding features that attracted most attention from the delegates and visitors was the "Walkless Parade" of the woman suffragists. For many weeks the suffrage organizations have been recruiting members to take part in this exceedingly unique demonstration. Nine o'clock this morning found rows upon rows of white clad women, decked with yellow streamers and sashes, and carrying picturesque yellow parasols, forming a complete line around the Jefferson hotel and the Coliseum, the two points for the delegates, so that every man as he came and went all day long was surrounded and confronted by the visible indication that women all over the United States want the vote, and moreover, want a suffrage plank in the Democratic platform.

ENCAMPMENT OF OREGON VETERANS

Eugene, Ore., June 11.—Grand Army and Spanish war veterans, together with members of numerous affiliated organizations, are here from every part of Oregon to attend their annual joint State encampment, which began its sessions today. The entire city was in patriotic attire in honor of the visitors and in celebration of Flag Day. The gathering will continue until Saturday. Forest Grove is making a spirited fight for the next encampment.

NEW RUSSIAN PORT TO HELP UNITED STATES

New York, June 14.—According to a cable message by the American Russian Chamber of Commerce in this city the new Russian port of Nikolaevsk, at the mouth of the Amur River, in Siberia is to be opened for navigation today. The opening of the new port will enable American exporters to land goods in Russia without interference or delay from Government shipments, for the first time since the beginning of the European war. Goods will be transported on the Amur River to Stretyinsk, where connection will be made with a railroad joining the trans-Siberian line.

that his or her published vote standing is not allowed to fall too far below the average of the daily leaders. Of course the leadership in each district will be changing almost daily and it must be remembered that the leadership in either district at this time gives no promise that the first position will be held by the same candidates at the end, but good standing in the published vote is essential to any candidate for it proves to their friends that no quarter is being given and that they are up and doing.

Old Subscribers Enthusiastic

A very pleasant feature about the present enterprise of the Progress is the fact that the votes are issues on the old and arrears subscriptions as well as on the new subscriptions. This gives all of our present subscribers the opportunity of selecting their favorite candidate and casting their votes accordingly. Every person, no matter where they live, or whether they are now receiving the Progress or not, who makes a subscription payment of $1.50 or more to the Progress, during the time of the contest, is entitled to votes in accordance to the amount paid. Persons who have been making weekly payments to carrier boys may make payments of $1.50 or more to the contestants, who will issue proper receipt for same, and the paper will be continued from the expiration of the last payment made in the carrier.

Persons who live out of town or those receiving the paper by mail may either hand their subscription payments to the contestant or they may mail them direct to the Progress office, and proper vote credit for the candidate indicated will be given. In all cases where subscriptions are handed in or mailed direct to the office by the subscriber the candidate to whom the votes are to go must be specified at the time.

If you have not yet voted select your candidate from the printed list below. Hand him or her your subscription now. You must help name the winners.

GO NO FARTHER

The Evidence is at Your Door

Clearfield proof is what you want and the statement of this highly respected resident will banish all doubt. Mrs. M. M. Condon, 209 Merrill St., Clearfield says: "I had a very lame back and suffered for a long time from distressing backaches. It hurt me awfully to stoop or lift and I couldn't rest at night. My kidneys bothered me greatly also. Doan's Kidney Pills relieved the lameness in my back and regulated the action of my kidneys." (Statement given June 25, 1914.)

NO TROUBLE SINCE

On December 7, 1915, Mrs. Condon said: "I have had no kidney trouble at all lately and feel confident that Doan's Kidney Pills cured me." Price 50c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Condon has twice publicly recommended. Foster—Meburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

HOLLAND'S WAR BREAD MUST BE CHANGED

The Hague, June 13.—(By United Press)—Holland's war bread, which has been in use for the last few weeks will have to be changed. The Holland populace says so, the physicians of Holland says so and the government is expected to agree.

Unlike the war bread of all other European countries, the Holland bread was made of flour which contained the husks of the wheat. Even the sturdy Dutch stomach was unable to endure the scrapings and scratches of the wheat husks and shortly the physicians of Dutch cities and towns had a rush of patients whose digestive organs had gone wrong. The doctors quickly traced the trouble to the war bread.
